Carnegie query

Local hero may get award

A 32-YEAR-OLD Campbell man, who rescued an elderly man trapped in an apartment building in May, is being considered for the Carnegie Hero Medal it was learned recently.

Tom Ovesen, 831 Gale drive, rescued an 84-year-old neighbor from his second floor apartment May 29 when a blaze swept through the Appletree Square Apartments gutting six of the eight units.

An account of Ovesen's deeds appeared in the Campbell PRESS on June 8 and apparently was sent to the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania by a reader.

R. E. Swartzlander, chief special agent for the commission, sent a query to the Campbell Fire Department, along with a copy of the article, requesting an official assessment of Ovesen's rescue. Fire Chief Gene Borden's response, and a form listing specifics of the rescue, was sent to the Carnegie headquarters last week.

WHETHER OR NOT the local man receives the celebrated bronze medal will depend on future studies by the Commission. First, according to Swartzlander, they'll be contacting the two eyewitnesses listed in the report. If Ovesen still appears to qualify, as he does now, the Commission will send a field representative to Campbell to personally interview fire department officials and witnesses.

The hero recognition program was founded by Andrew

We hear you

Any gripes, kudos, or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

Many of us are wondering just why NOTHING is being said or done about the idea of the (old Campbell grammar school) on Campbell ave. being acquired by the city for use as a Campbell public hall. We are wondering if anything was done with the petitions to the Campbell elementary school district to allow Campbell to buy, and remodel this seemingly ideal building which, although declared earthquake unfit for a school, could still be adequate for adults. All the discussions seem in favor of the former Hamilton School site which might serve but is not as centrally located, nor equipped for a large crowd as the old grammar school is.

MANY SENIORS

Editor's note: There are several answers to this query. First, nothing is being said or done because the leader of the Save Our School drive is moving from the area and didn't persue it further. The petitions were never presented to Campbell school trustees because of a problem in communication. They've been located, with the 750 signatures collected by local seniors, and will be available for you to present to trustees for their response. The petitions, however, do not call for Campbell to acquire the building and remodel it. They ask trustees to preserve the building without giving specifics as to its future use.

If the city wants to know so gall dern bad how to spend all that money ($400,000) I have some ideas for them. How about doing something about our filthy streets? Get those street sweepers back on a regular schedule. Then they can take care of some of the big chuck holes in the streets and patch up sidewalks. How about some park benches near city hall and along downtown for us old timers to rest on? If they still have money left over they can hire some more police to take care of the rowdies around here.

Old Timer

I see how the City Council is studying building a center for seniors in Campbell. What about the rest of us? I've heard there are dozens of (organized) groups in Campbell. Clubs, fraternal groups, youth groups, sewing groups, art groups. You name it. Maybe there are hundreds of seniors that need a place to meet. But I'll tell you there are thousands of people of all ages who need something too.

Clubber

City plan reviewed

A question of open space

By PAT SAFFORD

IN LIGHT OF a recent court decision against the City of Morgan Hill, this city will be reviewing its open-space element to make sure it meets state requirements.

The question was raised by Commissioner Don Hebard at the last Campbell Planning Commission meeting. At that time Planning Director Art Kee and City Attorney Bob Dempster were directed to look over local laws to see if they're adequate or if a review is needed by the Commission and City Council.

Open space is parks, public and quasi public facilities (such as schools, churches and City Hall) and undeveloped land. It's the land assets cities have to work with in future planning for recreation or open space for its citizens.

Under the state mandated program cities are required to adopt plans listing their current land resources and specific plans on how these will be developed, acquired or preserved to meet current and future needs.

In the Morgan Hill case, a proposed development along the foothills of the El Toro Mountains led to a court fight with local environmentalists. The Save El Toro Association argued that, since the city did not have an adequate open-space plan, they could not act on the disposition of that undeveloped property.

RECENTLY, THE state court of appeal reviewed the case and found in favor of the citizens' group.

"As the City of Morgan Hill has not adopted a valid open-space plan the city cannot take any action to acquire, regulate or restrict open space land or approve a subdivision map," Judge P. J. Caldecott ruled.

Planning Director Art Kee says he feels Campbell and Morgan Hill are quite different in their handling of the open-space requirements.

First, Campbell has adopted related general plan elements dealing with land use (including open space), noise, safety and housing to name a few. Morgan Hill had not adopted many of those required elements.

Second, Kee feels the specifics set down in Campbell's 4-page element are adequate.

Under the goals section of the ordinance it calls for preserving open space, improving open space land for recreation uses, acquiring school sites as they become available in areas justified for parks and open space, and further development of existing park sites.

PLANNING OPEN space within the city includes John D. Morgan Park, Los Gatos Creek Park and the neighborhood school parks. And the five year capital improvement plan recently formulated includes further improvements to these sites.

In the next five years, Kee said, a total of $704,000 has been earmarked for parks. That includes state, county and local funding.

And Kee has a letter from the state resources agency, dated May 5, 1973 in which the state reviewed Campbell's plan and determined it was acceptable in order for the city to apply for state funding.

"But it's in our best interests to make sure," Kee added, "and if changes are needed to make them."

A report is expected from Kee and from Dempster at the Nov. 15 Planning Commission meeting.

AT PRESENT the city has a total of 649 acres in either public or quasi public domain or vacant parcels. Of the 466 public and quasi-public lands, 112.54 acres are in parks (including the 70 acres in percolation ponds along the Los Gatos Creek Park area). A breakdown includes: Morgan Park (27 acres), Campbell Park (1,149), Virginia Park (.751), Gomes Park (.112), Harrison Park (.03), Los Gatos Creek Park (80 acres including 10 acres in land) and eight neighborhood school parks (3.5).

In the Morgan Hill plan (ruled inadequate), the city cites the accepted state suggestion of 10 acres per 1,000 population as a target to shoot for in park and recreational areas. With this city's population that would equal 295.50 acres of park and recreation land for Campbell.

But Kee says that state formula is not a standard or a requirement.

"And I'm not sure we need to acquire more open space," he added. Instead, the two large park developments, for instance, need to be completed.

Still to be installed at Morgan Park are horseshoe pits, athletic fields, trails, a camping area, community center and an olympic-size swimming pool.

Factory plan

Parking deck comes before city planners next week

A two-decker parking lot at The Factory, 40 townhouses for Pollard road and an expanded parking lot behind the Wells Fargo Bank on E. Campbell ave. are a few of the plans that come before the Campbell Planning Commission this Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Meetings start at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chamber, 75 N. Central ave.

On the tentative agenda that night are plans by William MacLaughlin and Central 93 Associates for a two story parking structure at 33 and 93 S. Central ave., approval of revised usage for that commercial development and a revised parking design.

Engineering studies are now underway for a modified downtown parking district that would serve the Bodega and The Factory.

Also up for hearing is the application of Bruce Brennan and the Charles W. Davidson Company, on behalf of William Schworer, Jr., and Great American Homes for a change in zoning on property at 1275 Pollard road.

The applicants want the zone changed from multiple family residential to planned development-low-medium density residential. They plan to construct 40 townhouse units on the property.

David W. Hammond and Wells Fargo Bank are seeking a use permit and approval of plans to expand their parking lot at 200 E.Campbell ave. in a planned development-commerical zone.

Also up for discussion Tuesday is:

- The continued application by Alfred Wilson to construct a four-plex at the rear of 257 W. Rincon ave.
- Plans by E. N. Harrison to construct an office building at 441 N. Central ave. in a neighborhood commercial zone.
- The application by W. Leslie Pelio and Dell Associates II to construct three industrial buildings at 540 Division st.
- Plans by Jean Ann Williams for signing at the Beauty Villa at 505 E. Campbell ave.
- A public hearing on the application of Jack Paulson to allow construction of six townhouse apartment units and an owner's unit at 540 W. Campbell ave.
- The continued public hearing on a use permit and approval of plans to convert a residence into an office at 69 E. Hamilton ave. Norman Bartell and Ed Edfer are the applicants.

Sprucing up the city is the topic

The city's role in beautification will be under discussion tonight at the Civic Improvement Commission meeting in this third, in a series, of Community Conversations.

The public is invited to take part in talks about litter control, landscaping and beautification of the city (including the new loop streets), and placement of public trash receptacles.

The Conversation begins at 8 p.m. tonight, Nov. 10, in the Council Chamber, 75 N. Central ave.

Representatives from the city's Public Works Department will be on hand to report on Campbell's current and planned beautification programs and Ralph Ermatinger of the U.S. Brewers Association will explain this group's Litter Prevention Program.

The peaks and valleys of a skateboard park

Excavating for the switchback run were completed last week at Winchester Skateboard Park, one of two parks that will be completed by the first of the year. Right, contractor Von McGhie man the skiploader while, below, Steve Adamo waters down one of the banks. The facility on Winchester blvd., near Sunnyoaks, is slated for a late November, early December opening while Campbell Skateboard Park on S. Bascom ave., near Campbell ave., has a target date of Dec. 15. Tons of cement, to line the runs, will be poured in the next week at the Winchester park. The two parks will give Campbell the distinction of being the only city in Santa Clara County with skateboard facilities. But that boast won't be valid too long. Plans are underway for other parks in neighboring cities.

Old Camden road area

Moratorium eyed on building

A POSSIBLE MORATORIUM on new construction in part of the city and a new conflict of interest code dealing with city employees highlights the Monday, Nov. 14 meeting of the Campbell City Council.

Sessions start at 8 p.m. in the Council Chamber, 75 N. Central ave.

Fire Chief Gene Borden is asking for a moratorium on new building projects along the old Camden road area due to inadequate water lines.

For several years discussions have been going on about the present level of fire protection for that area; considered substandard because the only available fire hydrants are on the west side of Winchester boulevard. To fight a fire along parts of Old Camden road, for instance, would involve laying hose across busy Winchester and across the Southern Pacific railroad tracks.

IN A RELATED item Woolworth Construction is appealing one condition imposed on their Camden ave. project; installation of a fire hydrant at a cost of $19,930. The developers feel the cost is excessive and should be shared by nearby commercial developments. According to a report from Chief Borden, it would cost $57,680 to install adequate water lines through the entire area.

A total of 33 cities employees, including 17 staffers in the public Works Department alone, will have to file financial disclosure statements under a new conflict of interest code coming up for first reading Monday.

At present the City Council must file, according to a city ordinance, and planning commissioners and city department heads must file statements under state law.

The new state mandated law applies to any city employee who is in a position to make a decision with financial impact on the public. The law, which must be in effect by Jan. 1, would be administered by the City Clerk.

OTHER ITEMS coming up for discussion Monday include:

- A first reading on a bingo ordinance which regulates how non-profit organizations may hold games within the city limits. At an earlier council session City Attorney Bob Dempster was asked to look into an additional amendment which would allow the Council to permit bingo games in city owned or controlled facilities. At present three senior groups are holding bingo games and, under a strict interpretation of the proposed law, two of them would not be able to play. One meets in the Community Room of the Campbell library and the other in the Grange Hall, rented by the City.
- Discussion of the city's fourth year federal Housing and Community Development projects. Campbell will receive between $400,000 and $500,000 for the 1978-79 fiscal year and three community meetings were scheduled earlier this week to get ideas and comments from residents.

A REPORT and possible awarding of bids for two projects to be funded by the federal public works bill. Big openings on the massive street work project and city hall renovation were set for Nov. 8 and 9.

- Discussion of the $94,700 in HCD funding allocated by the City Council for a semi-mall development along downtown Campbell ave. This 1977-78 HCD project would only pay for preliminary work along Campbell ave., including creating a meadering, one lane, one way street with diagonal parking. Before staff proceeds with engineering work they're seeking a reaffirmation from the City Council on those plans.
- A staff report on fire department operations and relocation of the Central ave. fire station will be put off to the Nov. 21 adjourned meeting so a full night can be devoted to this subject. Included in that Nov. 21 session will be a report on the possible use of the vacant Cambrian fire station, manning requirements and cost for creating a third fire station in the city and the countywide paramedic plan.
- Discussion of the county transit district's plans to boost fares for youth from the present 10 cents to 25 cents.

A REQUEST BY Director Deborah Nickel that the city designate Community Safety Services a non-profit organization so she can apply for funding. The City does not make non-profit rulings for organizations. That determination is made by the Franchise Tax Board or the Internal Revenue Service.

- Discussion of the neighborhood school park program. At a study session between councilmen and Campbell elementary school trustees recently Superintendent Walt Hauss said future park improvement plans might be stimied by a state ruling that all district schools get comparable facilities. Since just seven of the 17 district schools have school parks (and are within Campbell), Hauss felt there might be a problem. He's since learned the state edict doesn't apply in this case. Future planned improvements at local school park sites include large turf areas and more tennis courts. The city wants the school district to agree to provide maintenance for these improvements.

Southern Pacific. My question is this. Have you or the city taken a look out that way lately? It's a bigger mess on the west side of Winchester and that land doesn't belong to SP. In fact, the weeds are so tall in some spots I'm surprised the city hasn't been condemned by the Fire Department as a fire hazard.

Critical eye

Why should the seniors in Campbell get to play bingo in city buildings if others can't? If the Senior (Social) Club gets special permission from the City Council I sure don't see why the Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club or Rebekah's can't have the same treatment.

Curious

Editor's note: There has been no final decision on that question. The new bingo ordinance comes up for a first reading next Monday night at the City Council meeting and your question is one of several expected to be raised.

BEHIND THE STORY

The kidnap hoax story which dominated the front pages of Bay Area dailies recently has a behind-the-scenes story about a Good Samaritan.

The man, who lives in the Los Gatos hills near the spot where the ransom money was to be dropped off, was home alone with his three tiny children while his wife was out shopping. He heard a crash out front and went out to investigate.

As he got to the front gate he saw an overturned motorcycle with a rider handing over the side of a ravine. He opened the gate to go to the man's aid and relates, "Men with guns started jumping out of the trees, from behind bushes, from everywhere."

The frightened man ran back inside the house to telephone police and to protect the children and, in his haste, tripped and fell, injuring his nose.

A few minutes later one of the "men" came up to his door to tell him of the kidnap-plot and to explain he and the other dangerous-looking armed men were only FBI agents.

The could have fooled him . . . and they did.

US WOMEN STICK TOGETHER

A woman in her late 20's came to my aid Monday morning when she saw me arguing with a motorist in another car and thought I might be in trouble.

"Is that guy giving you a bad time?" the woman asked as I started back to my car, "I saw him cut you off back there at the signal." At that she raised some "protection" she'd brought along; a tire iron. "Just in case he got violent," she explained.

The man in this case was my husband and what looked like an altercation was my attempt to borrow $5.

P.S. I got the money.

HOW TO LOOSE 3,000 BROWNIE POINTS

The recent fund-raising dinner for Supervisor Rod Diridon was a success and an enjoyable evening for the hundreds who attended.

But there was one sour note in the before, during and after dinner talks.

The Master of Ceremonies spent some of that time giving the city of Campbell the needle and managed to mispronounced Mayor Podgorsek's name four times in as many attempts. (A fete, incidently, often matched by others).

The lowest cut of the evening came right after Mayor Podgorsek led dinner guests in the Pledge of Allegiance and prompted Diridon later to promise to send the man to charm school as soon as possible.

"Thank you Mayor Peggersee," MC Gong enthused, "but you know, I didn't know anyone in the city of Campbell knew HOW to salute the flag."

Boo, Hiss.

A SURPRISE TO THE CITY

A caller to Campbell public works staff recently wanted to know why Campbell ave. had been closed off right at the Southern Pacific railroad tracks. And staff didn't have an answer. That was the first they'd heard of it.

Seems SP crews needed to work on the Campbell ave. crossing and got underway without fanfare . . . or notice.

City crews got busy putting up detour signs and also relayed a polite request to SP to let the City know in the future when they need to close off a street.

Long time teacher dies

EDITOR:

This short note is to let you know that on Oct. 25 Mabel C. Keesling passed away at her retirement home, Laniolu, in Honolulu.

Death in her 94th year came as she was being awakened for breakfast. It was peaceful and sudden.

She was in good spirits up to the end and, just two days before had her usual morning at the beach where she so enjoyed the sun.

CECIL AND MABEL E. KEESLING

Editor's note: The late Mrs. Keesling was a long time teacher in the Campbell area including the old Campbell grammar school, Hamilton and Meridian schools and was later principal at Cambrian School. She and her husband Archie helped form the old "Footlighters" acting group in Campbell. They retired in 1947 and moved to Hawaii where they made their home in Kailua.

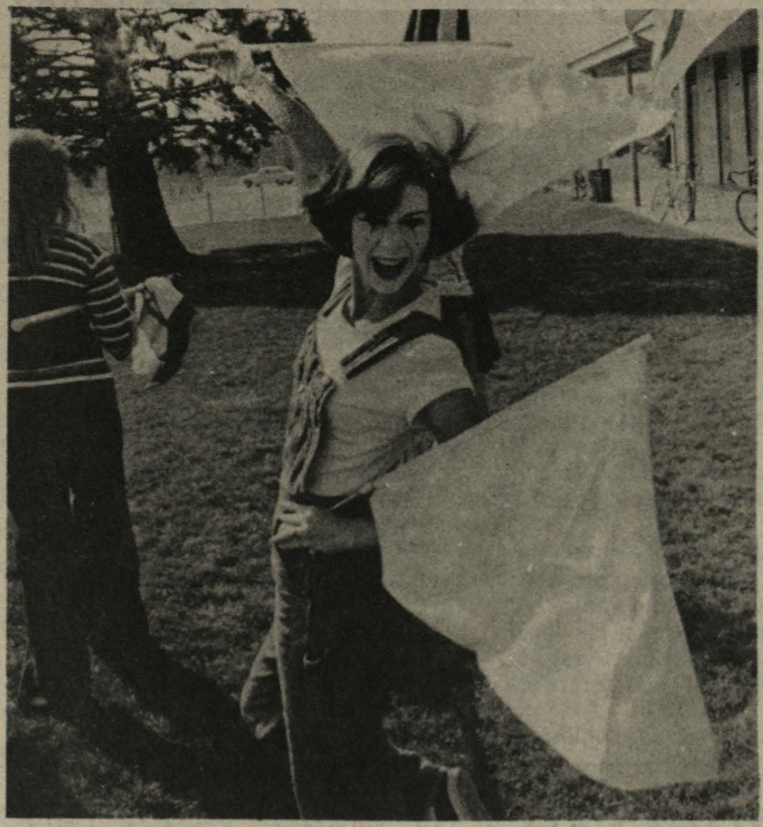
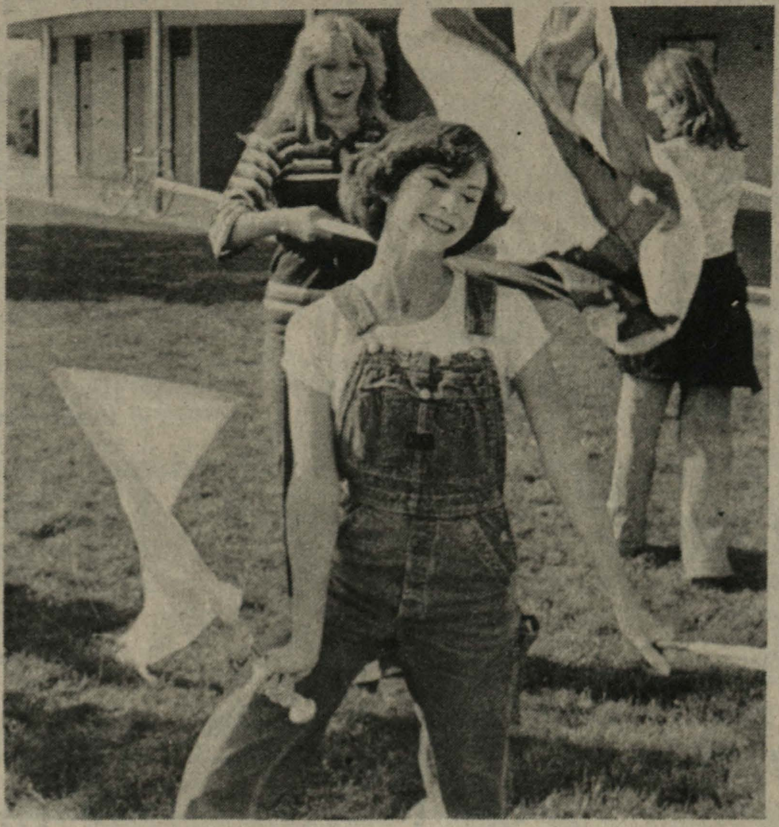
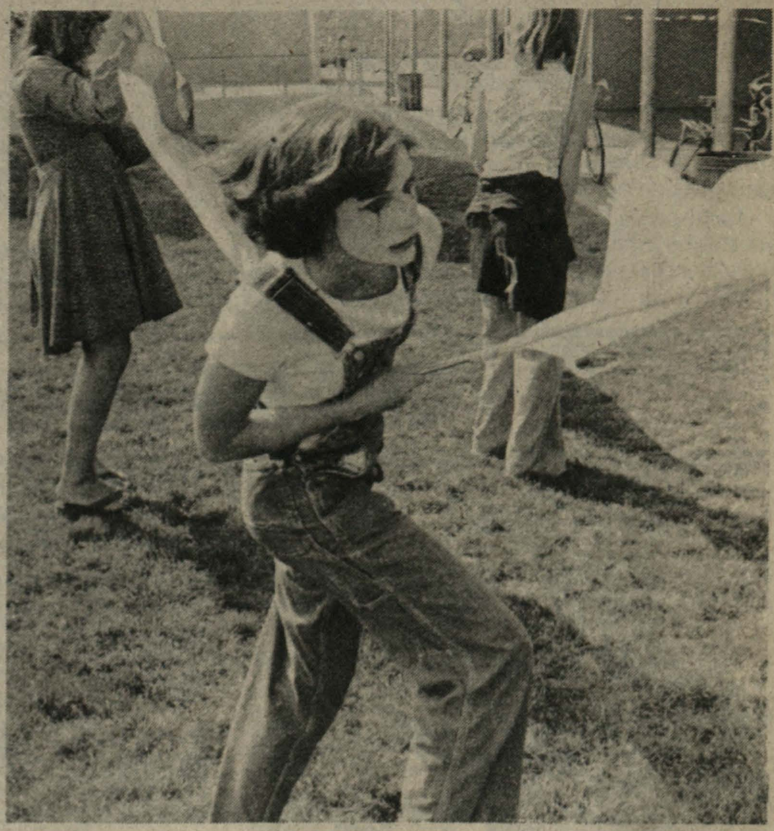
How to be a flag girl in one 'painful' lesson



"This looks easy," says Shar of The Silent Company mime troupe as she decides to join the Campbell High School flag girls for practice.
(Photography by Ray Downey-Laskowitz)



But twirling those flags isn't all its cracked up to be especially when you get a crack on the shoulder blade when the real flag girls do an abrupt about face.



The mime decides to take her sore shoulder and bruised dignity off the field and try something less hazardous ..... like "helping" the workmen lay the cement in front of the school.

Criticism in wake of fire station closing

SAN JOSE fire fighters from Station 9 at Ross and Hillsdale visited the Cambrian drive area last Friday to make sure residents know who to call in case of fire.

This house-to-house drive came in the wake of criticism lodged against the San Jose Fire Department last week after a Cambrian drive home suffered $5,000 in damages on the evening of Nov. 1.

Originally, a charge was leveled that it took fire fighters 20 minutes to respond to the alarm. A check of the tapes, however, shows total time elapsed from the first call to the arrival of Station 9 engines was close to 6 minutes.

"I feel that 5 minutes and 44 seconds is still quite a long time to travel 2 miles," declared Jimmie Grant Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Grant, and several other members of the Cambrian Village Homeowner's Association visited county communications and the Campbell communications center Monday night to listen to the official tapes of that fire call.

THE IRONY OF that dispute is that the Cambrian fire station is located just a few blocks from the fire damaged home. That station had been shut down by San Jose just two days before the blaze when that city took over fire protection for three areas formerly served by the Central Fire District.

Station 9 now serves that area and last week fire fighters were handing out phone stickers with the San Jose emergency number.

"Seems to me they should have done this before they closed the station," Mrs. Grant declared.

Any delays in the response time for that fire came about because the two callers who reported the incident called Campbell communications. Those calls had to be relayed to the County Communications Center which then dispatched Station 9 to the fire.

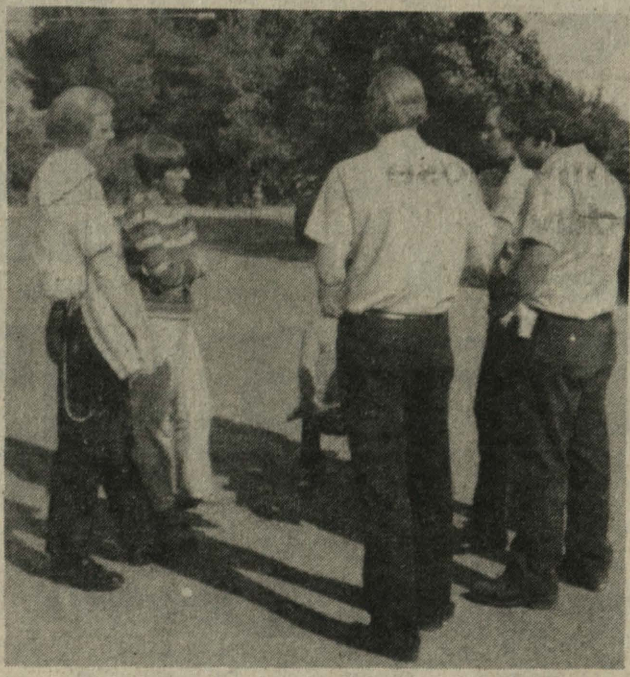
According to the master tape at Campbell communications, the first call came in at 6:12 p.m. and 26 seconds. It took 26 seconds to obtain the needed information and the call was then transferred to County Communications who took 11 seconds for the call to be answered and another 49 seconds to take down the information.

CONCERN OVER the closing of the Cambrian station is just one issue with that homeowner's group. They've also taken issue with pre-zoning plans with the city of San Jose to allow 20 3-bedroom condominium units on an undeveloped parcel on Curtner ave.

Their protest was scheduled to be heard before the San Jose Planning Commission on Wednesday.

Earlier the group appealed to the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) and that group, which oversees annexations, has ordered a study of land use and services for the Cambrian area west of Bascom ave.

Tuesday afternoon representatives of that group were scheduled to appear before the San Jose City Council to seek their support for the LAFCO study.



FIRE fighters from San Jose fire station 9 visited the Cambrian drive area last Friday to give out information on smoke detectors and phone stickers showing residents where to call in case of fire. A blaze in that area Nov. 1 was reported to the Campbell Fire Department, causing a delay in response time. San Jose recently took over fire protection for that area from Central Fire District and closed down the Cambrian fire station. Service for that area now comes from the Ross and Hillsdale station.

In county jails

Inmates may lose help of unique legal aid program

By CHERYL DOWNEY-LASKOWITZ

A UNIQUE program offering free legal services to inmates of county jails has had its funding threatened after one year of operation.

A cutback in federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) funds has put in danger the Inmate Legal Services program, considered a model of such programs in the country.

Locally, the Criminal Justice Planning Board distributes the LEAA funding and the staff of that board, faced with funding cutbacks, have assigned the program a low priority among law enforcement services.

The county Bar Association, which also contributes some money to the program, has urged the planning board to reconsider funding of the Inmate Legal Services program and asked that the item be placed on the board's agenda this Thursday.

Bar Association president-elect Alden Danner praised the program, which provides civil legal help to inmates who cannot afford attorneys.

THE PROGRAM operates on a $60,000 yearly budget, so a cutoff of funds Dec. 31, as threatened, would mean a loss of the $30,000 needed to run through June.

"We anticipated being cut after our second full year of operation, ending June 30, 1978," explained Constance Carpenter, directing attorney for the program. "We would then have appealed that decision or looked for alternate sources of funding. But on such short notice as we have now, if we are cut, this office will not exist after Dec. 31."

Carpenter explained that "We're strictly a law office." She and another attorney, an investigator and law student volunteers handle all the civil problems of the inmates in the five Santa Clara county jails when those inmates cannot afford a lawyer.

The most common types of cases involve marital and child custody problems, property and eviction hassles, and civil suits brought against prisoners. The legal service also has the happier task of arranging weddings for inmates, Carpenter said.

"People who are in jail have not lost all their civil rights," Carpenter asserted, and the program exists to make sure that is true.

Besides protecting inmates' rights to get married, fight a divorce, protect custody of their children, fight eviction and defend themselves in a civil suit, the service protects inmates as a group.

For instance, the service makes sure that inmates know of new laws pertaining to them, and sees that they are followed.

Without the legal service for inmates, Carpenter commented that there would be little chance of an inmate getting help with those civil matters.

ADMITTING that the small staff was "outrageously overworked" with five different jails to serve, she said that it was the nature of legal services to never be caught up.

Seeing the need from day to day, Carpenter said she was optimistic about the project's chances to keep going. "I don't like to think that people are going to turn it (the program) off."

Sentence law stands

California's new determinate sentence law, which will result in the early release of thousands of prison inmates, has been declared a Constitutional statute by the Third District Court of Appeal following a suit from two county district attorneys and two court judges.

Financial disclosure

Working on revisions to the 1972 Fair Political Practices Act, The Fair Political Practices Commission has voted to adopt tougher regulations pertaining to personal financial disclosure of the University of California Regents and top administrators.

The FPPC's 4-0 vote will require the UC Regents and top administrators to reveal nearly all their personal investments, real estate holdings and income sources. The standard is the same that already applies to state legislators and other state and local policy-making officials, including county supervisorts, city council members and judges.

Seniors' nutrition

A bill that would have established a $300,000 Senior Citizens Nutrition Fund to authorize schools and community colleges to establish a local meals program for low income seniors has been vetoed by Governor Brown.

The Governor explained in his veto message that local community leaders already have the authority to carry out the objectives of the bill and added that federal funds for such services are already available.

'Mug-proof' parks mulled

Russ Cahill, new Director of Parks and Recreation, said he will push for more urban park development while striving to make them "mug-proof."

Too dense?

City's growth will be eyed by commission

By JILL STEWART

CONCERN FOR INCREASED population density in parts of the city prompted the Campbell Planning Commission to set a review of growth in Campbell at their Tuesday, Jan. 17 meeting. The specific target of discussion will be the Union-Apricot ave. area, now lined with apartment complexes.

"We're coming to a point where we've got a rather large area of dense population," said Commissioner Don Hebard last week. "Is there any consideration whether we should break this up a bit?"

Commissioner Peggy Pack responded she felt, "very strongly that we are getting too much high density."

These comments were made after the Commission unanimously recommended approval of a prezoning request for a large parcel of land on Union ave., near the Apricot ave. intersection. That area has been designated planned development-high density residential.

Prezoning does not make the land part of the city but tells how the land would be zoned if annexed into Campbell.

IN OTHER ACTION last Tuesday the Commission gave approval of a use permit to John A. Heim to allow conversion of part of an industrial building at 186 E. Sunnyoaks ave. to a restaurant.

The catch is that the restaurant already exists, is operating and has had a business license for a year and a half, according to Heim. He told the commission when he obtained the business license no one told him he also needed a use permit.

"Imagine my surprise," he told commissioners, when I tried to apply for a liquor license and was told I needed a use permit before I could build a restaurant.

City Attorney Bob Dempster told commissioners that has been a problem in making people aware of use permit requirements (in this case in a manufacturing zone). "We're trying to work this out," he added.

Commissioner Pack suggested the City Clerk's office have a checklist so potential buildings can be aware of requirements.

The Planning Commission went against a staff recommendation for denial last week and allowed Alfred Wilson permission to have a 12-foot wide driveway instead of the required 20 feet to the rear of residential property at 257 W. Rincon ave.

WILSON PLANS TO build a four-plex there, while retaining the single family home on the front of the lot.

Planning Director Art Kee said the staff recommended denial of the variance because a one-way driveway would be inadequate to serve a four-plex.

However, Wilson told commissioners the fire department said the problem is they would have to run hoses out to the street from the rear of the lot and fire trucks would run over them. Wilson said the department advised him to put a fire hydrant on the back of the lot and he plans to look into it.

In voting to approve the variance, commissioners warned Wilson he may have problems getting a four-plex approved for the property. That request, for approval of plans, was continued for two weeks.

Kee told the Commission and Wilson that, "two or three units could be served by a one-way drive."

EARLIER IN THE evening the top item on the agenda was given a denial without prejudice after the applicant called Tuesday morning and asked that the request be removed.

Alec G. Osachoff, representing Mini-Skools, Limited, has been before the Commission several times seeking approval to construct a day care nursery on Sunnyoaks ave., at the Winchester intersection. In addition to questions about noise impact of the project and safety raised by commissioners, neighborhood residents expressed concern over traffic problems the development might generate.

A spokesman for Mini-Skools said Tuesday afternoon the firm is rethinking their decision to build a day care center in Campbell because of indications the "Market" may not be here. Instead of the center, Mini-Skools may consider some other type of development for that property, the spokesman added.

Resident Dod Woodstock, 970 Old Orchard road, appeared before commissioners that night and said, while the proposal was withdrawn, he is still concerned about traffic problems in the area.

A discussion of those concerns between residents and Engineering Manager Bill Helms was set for Wednesday, Nov. 9 at 10 a.m. in Helm's office.

SATIRIST Richard Armour will appear at West Valley College on Wednesday, Nov. 16 at 8 p.m. in the Saratoga campus theatre. "A Satirist At Work" is the topic of the famous humorist who has authored more than 50 books and written more than 6,000 pieces of light verse and prose. Tickets are available through the Community Services Office by calling 379-9415 weekdays.

Youth needed

Campbell residents, between the ages of 13 and 21, are being sought to fill the vacancy on the Campbell Youth Advisory Commission.

The seven member group, who are appointed by the City Council for one year terms, advises on all matters relating to youth.

Recent activities of the group include helping with the city's 4th of July Celebration, the recycling center at Campbell High School, the annual Youth in Government Day and evaluation of the Youth Employment Program.

Commission meetings are held on the third Monday of each month at 4 p.m. in City Hall.

Applications will be accepted until December 1. Forms may be obtained by contacting the City Clerk's office at City Hall, 75 N. Central ave.

For information call the City Manager's office, 378-8141 weekdays.

Madeline Smith's fifth-sixth grade class at Dover School came away from the recent Eastridge mask making contest with award certificates, a blue ribbon and a check for $100.

Three students made the green, three-eyed, horned entry but, under the rules of the contest, the prize money is shared by the entire class. Mike Liquori, Brad Harrison and Scott Moore were the prize winning artists.

The top prize in the contest was captured by Dover on the basis of originality, neatness and ability to wear the mask safely.

The class hasn't decided what to spend the prize money on yet.

"We'll do something with it that the kids will all enjoy," their teacher said.

Local hero eyed by Carnegie Commission

Carnegie in 1904 and each year honors from 50 to 175 men and women who have risked their lives to save others.

That risk to the rescuer is one of the prime considerations of the Commission, Swartzlander explained. And, in cases where rescurers have lost their lives during the heroic deed, surviving family members have been awarded pensions by the Commission.

Ovesen's successful rescue placed his life in jeopardy but he came out of the experience with nothing more serious than a sprained ankle, when he leaped from the second floor balcony after dropping the victim to bystanders below.

ACCORDING TO EYEWITNESSES, the elderly man was asleep in his second floor apartment when the $200,000 fire broke out. Flames and smoke made it impossible to use the stairs to get to the man's apartment.

When Ovesen learned the man was still upstairs he enlisted the aid of bystanders to boost him onto the second floor balcony. The sliding glass door was locked so Ovesen heaved a heavy plant holder through it to gain entry and then groped his way through the smoke-filled apartment until he located the sleeping man.

As he carried the victim to the balcony, Ovesen says the walls were half eaten away by flames and smoke was pouring in through the ceiling. Ovesen lowered the man to bystanders and then leaped clear, injuring his ankle.

This life and death drama took less than five minutes and, by the time fire engines arrived the elderly man was on his way to his daughter's home by car and Ovesen was out front helping direct traffic.

"IN MY YEARS OF fire service," Chief Borden wrote in his cover letter to the Carnegie Commission, "this is one of the most impressive citizen rescues I've encountered."

A final decision on whether Ovesen will receive the Carnegie Medal may take several months.

"And it could take a year or longer," Swartzlander added.

LOCAL hero, Tom Ovesen, who rescued an elderly neighbor in an apartment fire in May, is shown above the morning after that deed which has received notice from the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission. Letters have gone out from the Commission to the Campbell Fire Department and eyewitnesses to the rescue and they'll be evaluating Ovesen for the Bronze Hero Medal. The local man is the manager of terminal equipment services for Tymshare, Inc. of Cupertino.

An Affair to Remember with BEA RENÉ

In a relaxed country atmosphere the DRYING SHED restaurant continues to attract diners from all over the S.J. area & some from as far away as Los Altos . . . in addition to the hearty food served here, the setting is warm & rustic; this restaurant has a very friendly personality. Especially popular is the Sun. Buffet Luncheon, which I highly recommend, for only $4.95 for adults (2.95 child). Served 11-3 p.m. — call 277-1512 for reservations.

A trip back to the 1920's is a visit to CLEMENTINES restaurant. They have a new Continental menu featuring exquisitely prepared items — i.e., Rack of Lamb Shilling (cooked in a pastry shell & served w/peanut butter sauce), Chicken Villarette (boned chicken breasts, sauteed in wine & fine herbs) — two fine examples. There's entertainment & dancing in the lounge in an atmosphere which is unbelievingly beautiful — you'll adore the decor w/its Tiffany shades in beautiful pastel hues. Take my advice & visit CLEMENTINES soon!

Holiday parties for offices & industrial plants couldn't be better than at SIRLOIN & BREW UNLIMITED in Saratoga, Belmont & Fremont. Your gang can have wonderful lunch w/unlimited beer — wine incld. for $2.00-$3.00 ea. Or sm. groups can enjoy superb steak dinners w/unlimited salad bar & bottles of wine, beer, or sangria for only $4.79 ea. There's no shortage of holiday cheer at the softly lit restaurants w/their early California settings. Anyone can afford a Xmas party there, even if shopping has shrunk your bank account.

Diners at LORENZO'S COTE D'AZUR are made to feel like privileged guests of charming owner/host Lorenzo (Renzo Pietrobon) & his staff . . . this restaurant offers classic Continental dishes, impeccable service, & a mellow ambiance & continues to be a peninsula favorite. There's also a hospitable bar/lounge, which on Mon. nites features a 20 ft. TV screen for football fans. So stop by for either lunch, dinner or Mon. nite football.

Last Mon. nite my friends & I enjoyed a delightful evening at the BLACK KETTLE . . . we were served a marvelous dinner which incl. a trip to their salad bar w/their own homemade dressing & hot bread, & entrees of BBQ Spareribs $4.95, Teriyaki Chicken Breast $4.95, & Petite Top Sirloin $5.25. The T-Bone Steak is only $6.25 & honestly, folks, this was an excellent dinner. Dining in this relaxed rustic inn setting was made all the more pleasant by the friendly hospitality & service.

The LE PAPPILLON restaurant is beautiful in its simplicity of design, & the authentic presentation of excellent haute cuisine has already made it a "winner" in the area. Owners GREGG GRASS & MIKE MASHAYEKH have carefully prepared their menu to serve you only the finest unique creations which they know will please the fussiest gourmet. Highly recommended!

St. Pius plans a rectory

A residence at 110 W. Latimer ave. may soon be sporting a cross and church sign, if plans are approved by the Campbell Planning Commission.

The Rev. Gregory Post received approval of the Commission last Tuesday to use the residence, which formerly serves as offices for West Valley College, for a chapel and rectory. Post and the Society of St. Pius X must still obtain a use permit and approval of plans.

The church plans to install a 45-seat chapel and meeting room in the building.

Katagiri visits church

Guest speaker at a Faith Celebration Dinner at the Congregational Church of Campbell this Tuesday, Nov. 15 will be the Rev. Mineo Katagiri, minister of the Northern California Conference of the United Church of Christ.

The public is invited to attend but reservations should be made by calling 378-4418.

DISPLAYING a few of the hundreds of items that go on sale this Tuesday, Nov. 15 are, back from left, Sandi Engdol and Lynn Warneck, members of the San Jose Chapter of Clipped Wings. Also pictured is Tami Engdol, 4. The annual rummage sale will run from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. this Tuesday at Briner Hall, corner of First st. and Campbell ave. Furniture, baby clothes, toys and bric-a-brac are some of the sale items. Proceeds will go to help programs for the mentally retarded. Lynn Warneck is sale chairman.

Reservations are now being taken for the Christmas installation luncheon to be held at the Village House in Los Gatos.

For information about the group phone 378-6374.

WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP

"Bring a Special Friend Day" is the theme of the luncheon meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Campbell next Thursday, Nov. 17.

The luncheon begins at noon in the church hall, 400 W. Campbell ave.

Tickets are $2 per person and child care will be provided.

COMMUNITY HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

Two members of the Auxiliary, Community Hospital, Los Gatos-Saratoga, recently were awarded honorary membership status for their years of service.

Mrs. Robert Marcum of Los Gatos and Mrs. Halstead Downey of San Jose have recorded close to 10,000 hours of free service to the medical facility on Pollard road.

A member since 1964, Mrs. Marcum serves as senior buyer for the gift shop.

Mrs. Downey, who joined the group in 1968, is on duty two times weekly in the hospital's surgical patient care sections.

WOMEN'S AMERICAN ORT

The Valley Fair Chapter of Women's American Ort will present a benefit art exhibition and auction this Sunday, Nov. 13 at the El Paseo de Saratoga community center, Saratoga at Campbell ave.

A preview will be held at 1 p.m. with the auction underway at 2. Wine and cheese will be served.

Donations are $2.50 per person and reservations can be made by calling 377-7678.

AMERICAN LUNG ASSOCIATION

Dr. Richard Rhodes will speak on "Health Hazards in the Arts," at the Thursday, Nov. 17 meeting of the American Lung Association (Santa Clara-San Benito counties).

The group meets at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the Campbell Library, 70 N. Central ave.

Dr. Rhodes is a San Jose internist and also serves as industrial physician for Pacific Telephone.

The meeting is open to the public.

Utilities eyeing oil, not atom

Energy Commission Chairman Richard Maullin told an Assembly committee in Los Angeles that California utilities have changed their planning to include a diminished reliance on the construction of nuclear power plants. The companies instead want to construct more oil-burning facilities to meet short term energy needs.

Maullin called oil-fired plants a "good hedge" because oil is immediately available and does not involve unconventional technology. He also said the lead times on oil plant construction are shorter and the costs of plant construction are lower.

"To burn less oil in the long term," Maullin said, "California may have to burn more oil in the short run."

Maullin told members of the Assembly Committee on Resources, Land Use and Energy that geothermal energy would appear to be a preferred energy source.

Schools chief finds argument 'repulsive'

"To me, to have the whole opposition argument on this based on race was very repulsive," State Schools Superintendent Wilson Riles said Sunday evening. Riles made the remark during discussion of his vote to tighten University of California admission standards for entering freshmen.

His vote played an important part in the UC Regents showdown: the proposal to tighten admissions standards passed by a 13-12 vote. Riles said he has made other tough decisions, "but they did not have the political overtones that this for me as a black had."

The superintendent said he was afraid that the message from the regents up to this point "is that you . . . blacks are not capable of meeting excellence and therefore we're going to hold the standards down so that you can get in. That becomes insulting to me."

Riles' comments were carried in a report by the Sacramento Union Monday.

Labor investigator

Harry J. Delizonna, general counsel for the state Agricultural Labor Relations Board, announced the appointment of former FBI special agent Fred A. Gallegos to head the board's general counsel office. Gallegos, of Sacramento, was described by Delizonna as "a superior candidate for the job."

The position Gallegos will fill entails investigating unfair labor practice charges and a working knowledge of Spanish. Gallegos, Delizonna said, is qualified to meet both requirements.

The new chief of operations graduated from the University of Albuquerque and has worked as a special investigator for the New Mexico attorney general's office. He also served as a criminal justice advisor to the California Office of Criminal Justice Planning.

Klansmen miss meeting

National leaders of the Ku Klux Klan failed in their attempt to meet with Governor Brown to discuss the state's policy on illegal aliens.

The group announced three weeks ago its intention to patrol the Mexican — U.S. border from Texas to California to "control the flow of Mexicans."

Grand Wizard and national director David Duke, and another Klan official did meet with two black administrative aides of Lt. Gov. Mervyn Dymally.

Duke said the meeting confirmed that California has no policy in regard to illegal aliens and "no way to stop them from changing the fabric of our society."

Emergency phone tests scheduled

With a $711,093 grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, Alameda County in California will test a new computerized telephone system using the 911 emergency dial procedure.

The 911 dial procedure, where it has already been implemented, uses a cumbersome manual routing technique for incoming calls to emergency officials.

The new system that will be tested will enable 911 operators to automatically contact the appropriate emergency agency to correspond a callers information. The moment the call is dialed, the caller's number and street address will light up on a video terminal in front of a police dispatcher. If for any reason the caller cannot complete his message, the terminal will continue to display the location of the call and number.

If the system is found to significantly improve emergency response in Alameda County, covering 733 square miles with 1.2 million residents, nationwide funding of the system would be encouraged, according to the LEAA.

Riles in China

State schools Chief Wilson Riles is visiting the People's Republic of China this week with a delegation of American educators.

As guests of the China Ministry of Education, the group will visit educational institutions throughout China and meet with Chinese officials at the national, provincial and local level.

The 14-member delegation was selected by The National Committee on United States-China Relations, a non profit educational organization.

The tour will conclude on Nov. 14.

Shuttle seen as solar generator

Former astronaut Donald Slayton said the Space Shuttle might someday serve as a solar electricity generator or "space hospital." Slayton is the shuttle test director at Edwards Air Force Base, where he delivered his remarks to the Associated Press Publishers Association of California, Arizona, Hawaii and Nevada.

Slayton said that five years after the first orbital space flight, scheduled for March 1979, existing technology could allow an onboard system to gather solar energy and transmit it to earth. According to the astronaut, the energy output of the system could be enough to provide the energy requirements of California.

Califano on admissions

HEW Secretary Joseph Califano claimed "we must continually seek new ways of measuring true human potential" in college admissions criteria. In his address to educators at a meeting of the College Entrance Examination Board, Califano echoed Gov. Brown's call for affirmative action programs which "seek not to exclude, but to include. . ."

Affirmative action programs to include more minority students in professional programs are "not to set rigid and arbitrary quotas but to establish flexible and reasonable numerical goals that operate as neither a floor nor a ceiling. . ."

"Great reserves of human talent have been locked up by our national legacy of slavery and discrimination," Califano declared. In essence the secretary underscored the Carter administration's contention that special admissions programs are needed to make up for past discriminations against minorities. The administration filed a brief in support of such goals in the Bakke reverse discrimination case pending before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Amtrak connection

Amtrak trains are now stopping in Richmond, in what is hailed as another step toward more comprehensive inter-modal transportation. The move links Amtrak with the Bay Area's BART system and A-C bus system.

The new scheduling is expected to make it easier and faster for Berkeley residents to gain access to Amtrak trains when making connections.

The inter-modal station in Richmond was constructed by Cal Trans and was dedicated Oct. 28 by Governor Brown.

Amtrak also announced new bus service to link Sacramento and Lodi to Stockton and Amtrak's "San Joaquin" run to Fresno and Bakersfield.

Leo's week to warble away

For Nov. 12 through Nov. 18

ARIES (March 21-April 19): The sweetness of friendship is offered. Relationship can be based on laughter and the sharing of mutual goals. Week ends on key of C, for chuckle, cheer and canape.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): New chapter begins. Say goodbye to the past, Taurus, and welcome the future with a smile and a "Howdy-do". Unexpected opportunity presented. Grab it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Duty and pleasure vie for your attention, time, energy and capital. Wires may cross, Gem, so be foxy. Week jumps to a quick fini.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): To keep in touch with dear one, Moonbaby, you must do more than just talk. Conversation is important, of course, but so is touching. Touch is the language we all understand.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You have a song to sing, dear Leo, and this week you should warble away. Why keep your talent confined to the shower? One at a distance sends important message. Read between the lines.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Crossroads lie ahead. Don't rush decisions. Basic issues involved. Listen to another person's thoughts, but don't permit your own ideas to get lost in the shuffle. Take care of Virgo — for a change.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Practical matters take top billing. Contrast real with fanciful. Decide what is permanent and what is transitory. One who seems to have all the answers, Libra, may not know all the questions. Proceed with caution.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Stumbling block turns out to be "learning experience" and you are wiser for the wear and tear. Diet needs closer attention. Questions will be asked, Scorp. Don't fudge!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Questions are asked. Answer honestly and briefly. Do not elaborate, Saj, for to add to the truth is to subtract from it. You get the drift.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A good cry once in a while never hurt anyone, Cap. After tears the heart feels lighter and the soul cleaner. This week you deal with honest emotion. Don't hold back.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Slow down, Aquari. Journey on which you have begun will have some detours. But, dear heart, you're going to make it, so relax. Week ends with a giggle.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Keep profile and voice low, Pisces, and blood-pressure will follow. Friend offers advice. Weigh carefully. Sense of deja vu tends to permeate entire week.

MAKING their first home in Campbell are newlyweds Carolyn and Matt Cary.

Local couple wed in double ring ceremony

The Rev. Crowley officiated at St. Lucy's Church at ceremonies uniting Carolyn Scrivano and Matt Cary, both of Campbell. The afternoon rites were held on the 28th wedding anniversary of the bride's parents.

The bride chose a floor length gown of organza, with bodice and upper sleeves appliqued with alecon lace, a chapel train and matching lace edged train length veil. Her bouquet was of orchids, roses, baby carnations, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Bridal attendants wore polyknit empire-style gowns with matching chiffon capes. Their bouquets were of roses, baby carnations, stephanotis and baby's breath. Flower girl carried a basket of rose petals.

Mother of the bride chose a blue, floor length gown with chiffon accents. Her bouquet was of butterfly orchid with baby's breath.

Mother of the groom wore a green Quinana gown with empire waist line. Her corsage was also of butterfly orchid with baby's breath.

Mary Ann Shull was matron of honor and bidesmaids were Patricia Mitchell, Betty Adams, Toni Wetterstrom, Jeanette Hagey and Malisa Marasa. Jeanette Scrivano was the flower girl.

Rocky Shull served as best man and ushers were Louis Scrivano, Frank Scrivano, Peter Cary, Tom Guina and Joe Cary.

Carolyn, daughter of Sal and Genevieve Scrivano, 104 S. Hunt way, is a graduate of Campbell High School. She is presently employed as an administrative secretary for a large electronics firm.

Matt, son of Henry and Jeane Cary of Campbell, attended Campbell High School and graduated from Mitty High. He is employed as an apprentice carpenter.

Following a reception for 150 guests at the Royal Fork Buffet the couple left on a wedding trip to Hawaii.

They will make their first home in Campbell.

Local teacher will be wed

A party in the home of friends was chosen to announce the engagement of Patricia Ann Kelley of Santa Clara and John Michael Devins of San Jose.

Patricia, who has been with the Campbell Union School Distrct for nine years, teaches second grade at San Tomas School.

Daughter of Polly Kelley of Orangevale and Dr. William T. Kelley of Orinda, Patricia is a graduate of San Jose state university and obtained her master's degree in education from the University of Santa Clara. She was a member of Chi Omega sorority at San Jose state.

John, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Devins of San Jose, attended San Jose state university and the University of California at Los Angeles. He served as a sergeant in the U. S. Army Special Forces (Green Berets) and is presently manager of a San Jose restaurant.

The couple plans a December wedding.

SAN TOMAS School teacher Patricia Ann Kelley will be married this winter.

Dons, Longhorns to drop out of race?

THE DEL MAR Dons and Leigh Longhorns will fall from title contention in the West Valley Athletic League football race this week, according to the fearless prep football forecasters.

While the league leading Los Gatos Wildcats are 18 point favorites to defeat the last place Prospect Panthers Thursday night at Los Gatos High school (8 p.m.), both Del Mar and Leigh head into their Thursday afternoon tilts as underdogs.

Del Mar visits defending WVAL champion Branham and is tabbed to fall by six. Leigh, meanwhile, hosts the Camden Cougars and finds itself an eight point underdog.

In the league's only other contest, Campbell welcomes Blackford. The Bucs are picked to win by four.

Viking poloists look for 21st straight victory

WHEN A COACH sits down at the beginning of the season and looks at the schedule his team is going to play, he plots things out so that his team could possibly win every game on that slate!

But, more often than not, when that same coach sits down at the end of the year and looks back at what actually happened, somewhere along the way his plans were destroyed — his team wasn't perfect!

Well, West Valley College water-polo coach Sheldon Ellsworth sat down in the beginning of the 1977 year and looked at the schedule his Vikings would play, thinking that there was a good chance his team could win every game it played.

And so far in 1977, at least against junior college competition, Ellsworth has been right.

West Valley has won 20 straight games in 1977 against other junior colleges, including impressive 14-10 and 16-7 victories over San Jose City College and Diablo Valley College last week.

The Vikings will close out their regular season on Wednesday in a 3 p.m. game against Chabot in WVC's Saratoga pool, looking to post their 21st win and nail down the Golden Gate Conference title.

Kicker Prospect 'D' brilliant

Panthers stun Bucs with scoreless tie

THE PROSPECT PANTHERS went into last Friday afternoon's West Valley Athletic League football contest against the Campbell Buccaneers decided underdogs.

After all, the Panthers had lost their previous seven games heading into last Friday's test. The Bucs, meanwhile, had beaten teams like the Lincoln Lions, who are currently tied for first in the Santa Teresa Athletic League, and Camden, one of the top teams in the WVAL.

In addition to the mismatch in records, the Panthers are the smallest team, physically, in the league while the Bucs are the largest. Prospect doesn't have a single player who weighs more than 200 pounds on its roster, according to head coach Earl Adams. Campbell, on the other hand, has a defensive line that average 240 pounds.

But those facts apparently didn't faze the Panthers. They went out and battled the heavily favored Buccaneers to a stunning 0-0 tie.

"The kids played a super good defensive game," praised Adams, whose team had been outscored 175-39 in its previous seven games. "I was really impressed with the hustle and desire the kids showed this late in the season, considering we haven't won a game yet."

Spearheading the Panthers' spirited defensive showing were downlineman Ken Hoyt and tackle Mario Delgado.

HOYT DID A "super job," according to Adams, while Delgado registered six tackles and recovered a fumble.

Free safety Tom Morgan, linebacker Craig Raphael, noseguard Tim Bidwell and end George Thum also recorded six tackles apiece to share team honors.

Brad Schultz came up with the defensive play of the game, intercepting a Campbell pass in the Panther endzone late in the second period and returning it 30 yards to end the Bucs' one and only scoring threat of the afternoon.

The Panthers never really threatened the Campbell goalline, driving to the 25 yard line in the second period and to the 35 in the third.

Although the defense played a major role in the tie for Prospect, Adams was quick to praise the Panther offense for its part in the upset.

"We didn't make too many mistakes on offense," he noted. "We had a good offensive game. It played with a little more consistency and that enabled us to keep Campbell from getting good field position."

The Panthers finished the game with 225 total yards of offense, 120 on the ground and 105 through the air.

TOM MORGAN SPARKED the offense with 78 yards on 14 carries. He also caught two passes for 18 yards and completed one pass for 30.

Dave Angerole was the other major contributor on offense, gaining 49 yards on 12 carries.

Guard Barry Boyajain, a junior making his first varsity start, and Tom Miotke, making his first start at center this season, were both singled out by Adamas for their blocking in the game.

The Panthers run into league leading and unbeaten Los Gatos Thursday night on the Wildcats' field in an 8 p.m. contest. The Wildcats take a 5-0 mark into Thursday's battle.

Campbell hosts Blackford, a 28-20 loser to Branham last week, in a 2:45 p.m. tilt Thursday. The Bucs will enter the game with a 1-3-1 record in WVAL play.

Paulin, Avrit win spots on all-GGC harrier team

IT'S THAT time of year in junior college cross country when every week means another championship. And each week those championships become tougher and tougher to win.

Well, the West Valley College cross country team will go after the Northern California championship on Saturday at Sierra College in Rocklin with one title already under its belt.

West Valley, the champions of the Golden Gate Conference, will try to win the NorCal crown in the third of the four weeks of championship competition.

"We've really been looking towards this week," said West Valley cross country boss Bill Campbell looking ahead to the NorCals. "This is really the first time this year that our guys will be running rested."

West Valley will be a favorite in the meet Saturday along with San Mateo and American River, according to Campbell. Fresno, Modesto, Diablo Valley and San Joaquin Delta will also be gunning for spots in the top five.

The top five teams in Northern California will advance to the state meet the following Saturday on the same 4.0 mile course at Sierra College.

THE VIKINGS finished third last weekend at the Golden Gate Conference finals despite "running through the meet" in workouts, according to Campbell.

Bob Paulin (Camden) finished third for West Valley at 20:11 and Doug Avrit was fifth at 20:27, both runners winning spots on the all-GGC team for their performances.

"Bob ran a very good race on Friday," said Campbell. "He looks like he's really ready to pop one!"

Paulin finished just four seconds behind the old course record of 20:07. Paul Mello of San Mateo finished first in the GGC in the record time of 19:58.

Leroy Bumbaca (Wilcox) was 17th for the Vikings at 21:07 and Gregg Szanto (Saratoga) was 19th at 21:12 in the conference.

Vance Eberly (Los Gatos) ran to 24th at 21:23 with Larry Bergkamp (Leigh) 30th at 21:44, Dale Dewhitt (Santa Clara) 32nd at 21:49, Steve Bruns (Saratoga) 34th at 21:53 and Ed Tico (Camden) 52nd at 22:33.

The West Valley women's team will also go after the Northern California title on Saturday with Ann Wotherspoon (Los Altos) and Kathy Perkins (Leigh) leading the way.

The Viking women will be favored in the race along with De Anza on the 3.0 mile course at Sierra.

Renna notches goal, assist to lead Viking hockey win

A SECOND half goal by Jan Renna drove the West Valley College women's field hockey team to a 2-1 victory over American River College last week in Sacramento.

Renna (Willow Glen) broke a 1-1 tie in the second half with a goal off of a Debra Daly (Westmont) assist to help West Valley ice its sixth win of the season.

American River had scored first in the game but Naomi Sasaki (Los Gatos) tied the count at 1-1 with a first half goal off of a Renna assist. Renna came back to score the game winner in the second half.

Viking goalie Terri Beebee (Camden) was singled out for her performance by West Valley coach Diane Tsutsumi. "She came out and cleared the ball several times," said the coach.

Tsutsumi also praised the work of Michele Miner (Branham) and Lori Howe (Willow Glen) defensively in the win and Renna, Daly and Jackie Hale (Los Gatos) offensively.

The win came after a 2-0 Viking loss to De Anza earlier in the week. The Dons cored twice in the first half to nail the win.

Sasaki and Renna sparkled offensively in the loss for the Vikes and Miner and Howe stood out defensively.

West Valley was to host Camden high school for a game on Monday and will entertain Ohlone Thursday for a 3:30 p.m. game.

Oberhoffer, Miller pace Vike fencers

LESLIE Miller and David Oberhoffer were the outstanding performers for the West Valley College fencing team last weekend when the Vikings fought at home for the first time this season.

Miller won five of six bouts and Oberhoffer won eight of nine bouts to lead the West Valley performance against Oakland Merritt.

The Vikings will be home again on Saturday, Nov. 19, to meet Napa and Monterey in a 9 a.m. battle in the West Valley Saratoga gym.

Vike gridders out to eliminate Bulldogs

HEADING INTO games last weekend, there were five contenders left for the Golden Gate Conference football championship. This week just three remain.

And the West Valley College football team would like nothing better than to cut the list of contenders to two when they head to the turf at Buck Shaw Stadium on Saturday, Nov. 12, to meet the College of San Mateo at 7:30 p.m.

Laney, De Anza, San Jose, Chabot and San Mateo all went into games last week with shots at the 1977 crown. But Chabot knocked off San Jose 17-16 and San Mateo handled De Anza 30-16 to knock the two teams out of the race.

Laney, idle last week, leads the conference with a 4-1 record and San Mateo and Chabot are tied for second with 4-2 marks.

But the Vikings will be out Saturday to knock San Mateo out of that second place tie and pick up their first win of the GGC season on the Shaw turf. West Valley is 0-6 in conference play and 1-7 overall on the year.

"West Valley-San Mateo games are always exciting," said Viking coach John Nicholas looking ahead to Saturday. "We're two teams with similar philosophies and we'll both be playing some hard-nosed football on Saturday."

WEST VALLEY is coming off of a 22-0 loss at the hands of the City College of San Francisco.

"We played pretty well," said Nicholas after the game. "We just didn't take advantage of the opportunities that we had to score."

The game wasn't actually as lopsided as the score might make it appear. The Vikes battled CCSF to a 0-0 halftime deadlock and trailed just 6-0 going into the fourth period.

San Francisco scored on a 67 yard run early in the third and took advantage of a Viking fumble to score four minutes into the fourth.

After hitting the Vikes for a safety, CCSF closed out the scoring with a 47 yard run for a TD with just 2:46 left.

"San Francisco is the type of team that you have to take charge of early and we didn't," said Nicholas. "They're huge — they just wore us out."

West Valley threatened to score three times in the game. Once the Vikings had a pass dropped in the endzone and a West Valley field goal try missed the uprights. On another drive, West Valley fumbled at the CCSF 10.

The Vikings did roll up 127 yards on the ground in the contest with Duran Evans romping for 71 yards on 14 totes. Tracy Wilson (Branham) added 24 yards on eight tries and Rick Asturias (Prospect) gained 16 yards on six attempts.

West Valley could add just 55 yards through the air in the game with Bill Tantillo (Branham) completing four of 14 passes for 48 yards and Marty Maiers (Leigh) completing one of four tosses for seven yards.

"THERE WERE gusty winds," said Nicholas. "Neither team threw the ball well."

San Francisco completed just four passes for 25 yards in the contest but added 297 yards on the ground to pick up the win.

Jeff Kahn (Mitty) led Viking receivers in the battle with four catches for 51 yards and Ramon Johnson (Camden) caught one pass for four yards. Kahn also punted six times for a 39.9 average.

John Clark (Leigh), Galen Strannigan (Campbell) and Vic Druhan (Leigh) each intercepted San Francisco passes to pace the Viking defensive performance. Strannigan also recovered an enemy fumble and Druhan stole the ball away from a CCSF ball carrier in the first period.

Scott Hoefling (Branham) and Dave Bakke (Campbell) were also singled out for their defensive performances at linebacker spots and Bob Claborn (Leigh) was praised for his work in the defensive line.

"Whenever you hold a team to 22 points in junior college football you should win," said Nicholas. "Junior college football is a different type of football — you have to score."

Tight end Kahn, center Dan Browning (Prospect) and tackle Jim Sorrentino (Branham) have all been playing well for West Valley in the offensive line.

"Browning has really come along at center," said Nicholas, a center himself in his playing days. "I'm very excited about his progress. He's maturing both as a football player and a person."

Surprising Del Mar topples Westmont

SINCE OPENING their West Valley Athletic League schedule with a stunning 7-0 upset of the Campbell Buccaneers this season, the Del Mar Dons have been surprise team of the WVAL.

And the Dons continued to surprise people, the Westmont Warriors in particular, last week with a 13-8 victory over Don Stagnaro's club.

"We weren't emotionally ready to play," admitted the Warriors' head coach, who watched his team become officially eliminated from title contention. "That was the key. We moved the ball pretty well but we just didn't execute."

The victory ran Del Mar's record to 4-1 in the WVAL, good for a share of second place along with the Leigh Longhorns. Both clubs trail the league leading Los Gatos Wildcats (5-0) by a game.

Leigh, however, has already lost to Los Gatos while the Dons still have the 'Cats on their schedule.

Del Mar travels to Branham to battle the Bruins, last year's WVAL champions, in a 2:45 contest. Westmont, which slipped to 3-3 in WVAL play, draws a bye this week.

"THERE WAS A lot of spirited hitting going on," said Del Mar head coach Ron Leimbach, referring to the tough defensive play of both clubs last week. "The defense did a great job. And Westmont is a very, very tough defensive team. But I still felt we should have scored a little more."

As it was, the Dons scored just enough to win, as they had in each of their previous three victories.

Clifton Warren capped a six play, 80 yard drive in the second period to put the Dons on the scoreboard first. A 45 yard bomb from quarterback Jeff Lane to Dave Garcia and a 16 yard toss to Greg Tardiu were the key plays on the drive.

George Rodriguez' fourth extra point kick of the season improved Del Mar's lead to 7-0.

The Warriors took a slim one point lead in the third period when Perry Lunt romped four yards for a touchdown that ended a 67 yard drive.

Quarterback Scott Ruiz fired to Steve Nuich for the two point conversion that gave Westmont its only lead of the day.

Big plays on the Warriors' scoring drive included a 20 yard dash by Greg Athearn, a 13 yard scamper by Ruiz and romps of nine and 11 yards by Phil LoPresti.

But Del Mar regained the lead with eight minutes to go in the fourth quarter on a 50 yard drive that was climaxed by Dave Hernandez' two yard touchdown run behind big blocks thrown by Jim Slattery and Bob Quadros.

LANE, WHO COMPLETED 14 of 27 passes for 268 yards in the win, sparked the drive with a 38 yard strike to Joe Mederios.

Garcia was Lane's top target on the day, snaring seven passes for 139 yards. Tardiu caught four for 70.

Craig Idlett was the Dons' leading ground gainer, picking up 50 yards on six carries. Center Ken Loera and guard Quadros provided excellent blocking for the Don backs.

Defensive standouts for the winners included Scott Evans, John Calloway, Larry Oreglia, Quadros and Clifton.

Clifton had a big interception to stop one Westmont drive and turned in the "best game he's ever played," according to Leimbach.

Athearn accounted for most of Westmont's yardage, toting the ball 13 times for 104 yards in addition to making three catches for 12 yards. LoPresti carried the ball 10 times for 40 yards.

Ruiz completed nine of 20 passes for 59 yards. Nuich, like Athearn, caught three passes for 12 yards.

Pitta's six no TD, but leads Pee Wees to win

IF RICK PITTA had told anyone that he had scored six points to lead his Santa Clara Valley team to a 28-0 victory on a Sunday afternoon, they'd have to wonder if he played quarterback or tight end!

But it wasn't football that Pitta was playing on Oct. 30. and it wasn't a touchdown that accounted for his six points — he was playing ice hockey!

That's right, Pitta scored six goals to lead the Santa Clara Valley Junior Hockey Club AA Pee Wees to a one-sided 28-0 victory over South Bay in Hayward.

Pitta was one of six Santa Clara skaters to glide away with a hat trick in the easy win and 12 players finished the game in the scoring column.

Pitta led all scorers with his double-hat trick six goals and Bob Ringo chipped in with four goals. Brad Cohen, Ross Bergman, Ken Birdsall and Ken Riplinger popped in three goals apiece.

Bob Newman, Brad Dudschus, Bob Hopkins, Todd Freitas, Tony Unti and Brandon Weiss added a goal each in the game that saw Santa Clara take an amazing 75 shots on goal.

Andy Buchanan and John Blue combined for a shut-out in the cage but weren't too busy on the day. South Bay got off just two shots the entire afternoon.

The Santa Clara AA Mites had a little tougher time but still came up winners in the Sunday game, knocking off Squaw Valley, 3-1 on the loser's ice.

Scott Birdsall, Ramon Whosendorfe and Brian Compani each scored a goal in the win and Joey Harbold and Kevin Stonelake combined efforts in the cage to allow Squaw Valley just one goal.

Turkey tourney

THE CAMPBELL Community Service department will hold a co-ed Volleyball Turkey Tourney Sunday, Nov. 13, for "B" and "C" division competitors.

The entry fee for the tournament is $10 per team, which includes a full day of volleyball competition, trophies and turkeys for first and second place teams.

Registration is on a first come, first served basis. For further information call 378-8141, ext. 252.

Los Gatos turkey trot

THE SECOND annual Los Gatos Athletic Association Turkey Trot will be held on Sunday, Nov. 20, at 11 a.m. at Vasona Park, rain or shine.

There will be seven different age divisions in the race and separate awards in each division for men and women.

The registration cost is 50 cents for children and $1 for those 18 and over. Registration will begin at 10 a.m. on race day, there is no advance registration. The race is open only to residents of the Los Gatos-Saratoga Recreation Department district.

'Ask the Warriors'

"ASK THE Warriors", previously scheduled on KNBR radio (68) on Wednesday evenings from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m., was moved to Monday evenings beginning last Monday, for the rest of the Golden State Warrior basketball season. Broadcast time is 8 p.m.

Scotty Stirling, Assistant to the President of the Golden State Warriors, hosts the question-and-answer program for the second consecutive year.

League leading Overfelt hands Del Mar double loss

OVERFELT widened its lead in the PAL Winter League baseball race last Sunday by sweeping a doubleheader from the second place Del Mar Rainbows.

Overfelt, a team composed mainly of Overfelt high school graduates, tripped the Rainbows 4-2 in the first game and then shut-out the locals 3-0 in the nightcap.

Jeff Blobaum was tagged with the first game defeat, lowering his record to 6-2 on the season. Blobaum went the distance, allowing five hits and four walks while fanning five. None of the four runs scored against him were earned.

Del Mar had taken a 2-0 lead in the second inning on singles by Kevin Cesar, Dan McKay, Blobaum and Mike Greco.

But Overfelt won the game in the fifth with three unearned runs.

McKay was two for three in the loss for Del Mar while player-manager Gary Cunningham had the Rainbows' only other hit.

In the second game, Tom Bell absorbed the loss despite pitching well in his six inning stint. Bell scattered seven hits, walked just one and struck out three.

Cunningham led the Rainbows at the plate with two hits while Cesar doubled and both McKay and Craig Richesin singled. It was the first time this season that Del Mar had been shut-out.

In a non-league game earlier in the week, Del Mar battled Oak Grove to a 4-4 tie. John Benevento turned in a strong effort on the mound. allowing just two hits and one run in five innings while striking out eight. He left the game in the sixth with a 4-1 lead.

Blobaum rapped a pair of doubles and McKay stroked a pair of singles to lead the Rainbow bat attack. Scott Levander singled in a pair of runs, Cesar roped a double and Craig Bates chipped in with a single.

Del Mar, now 10-5 in league play, travels to San Jose high school Sunday for a twinbill with San Jose. Game times are 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Improving Jaguars still losing games

THE SAN Jose City College soccer team continues to improve. But unfortunately for the Jaguars, the wins have yet to follow.

The Jaguars, unable to find any breathing room in a rugged Golden Gate Conference schedule, dropped a pair of GGC contests to West Valley and De Anza recently.

"It was disappointing to lose," said Jaguar boss Sam Nakaso, after San Jose's 3-0 and 5-0 losses to West Valley and De Anza, respectively. "But those are both really fine teams. De Anza is leading the conference and West Valley is fighting for a berth in the Shaughnessy play-offs."

The Jaguars have been out of play-off contention for quite some time now and saw their GGC record dip to 0-9-2 with the losses to De Anza and WVC. San Jose's overall record fell to 2-13-3.

Wightman matches to be on radio

KNBR RADIO 68 will broadcast the 47th Annual Wightman Cup Tennis Matches between the British and the Americans on November 8, 10 and 12. Broadcast time for all three evenings is 8:05 p.m. The broadcast originates from the Oakland Coliseum with play-by-play by Bob Mansbach.

The United States leads Great Britain 38-8 with two of the eight losses coming in 1974 and 1975. The United States regained the Wightman Cup last year in London.

The English squad includes Virginia Wade, Sue Barker, Lesley Charles, Sue Mappin and Michelle Tyler. They'll meet Chris Evert, Billie Jean King, Rosie Casals, Jo Anne Russell and Kristien Shaw.

The format for the $50,000 event is as follows: The best of seven matches, five singles and two doubles; the first four single matches will be alternating between the numbers 1 and 2 players of the opposing teams, while the number 3 singles players oppose each other in one match. To complete the competition, the two doubles teams play only one match apiece.

Guy boots 74 yarder

RAY GUY of the Oakland Raiders drilled a 74 yard punt against the Denver Broncos on Sunday, Oct. 30, and it ranks as the longest punt of his pro career. It's not his longest punt ever, though. Guy boomed a 93 yarder as a collegian at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Branham girls nab crown

BRANHAM high school picked up a tight 1-0 win over Los Gatos last week to claim the 1977 West Valley Athletic League girl's field hockey championship.

Branham wrapped up the WVAL season with a near perfect 7-0-1 record to pick up the league title.

The same day Branham nipped Los Gatos on the varsity level, the Bruins and Wildcats tied 0-0 in the junior varsity division.

Del Mar knocked off the Campbell varsity 4-1 the same day and the Don jv's stopped the Bucs 1-0.

Poor first half leads to Blackford downfall

A SECOND half rally by the Blackford Braves wasn't enough to wipe out a poor first half performance last Friday as locals sank to a 28-20 defeat at the hands of the Branham Bruins.

"We played inspired football in the second half," said Blackford head coach Mike Spitzer. "But in the first half we were pathetic."

Branham scored all but two of its points in the first half on the way to building a comfortable 26-14 lead heading into the final 24 minutes of play.

The Braves had almost entered the third period trailing by just four points. But Branham's Darryl Bowman came up with the big play of the game to turn the Bruins' halftime lead into 12 points.

The Braves had cut the Branham lead to 20-14 with less than a minute to go in the first half on a nine yard touchdown pass from Ty Thurston to Guy Gandenberger on a halfback option.

Quarterback Jack Little then threw to Rich Andelin for the two point conversion.

"At that point we had the momentum of the game," said Spitzer.

But Bowman returned the ensuing kick-off 85 yards for a touchdown to swing the momentum back to Branham's side.

"THAT WAS the turning point of the game," said Spitzer. "That broke our back."

The Braves pulled to within six points of the Bruins in the third quarter on a 27 yard TD toss from Little to Brian Fox.

But Little was nailed for a safety in the fourth period and Branham held on for the victory.

Blackford's first score of the game came on a 26 yard pass from Mike Delapena to Gandenberger in the opening quarter.

Thurston, however, was the offensive star of the day for Blackford, rushing for over 100 yards. Tackles Gary Morton and Scott Hall provided Thurston with some excellent blocking.

Defensive standouts in the loss included Thurston, Dan Publicover, Mark Hendrickson and Brad Satterfield.

The Braves visit Campbell Thursday for a 2:45 p.m. contest with the perplexing Buccaneers. The Bucs, who have beaten Lincoln and Camden this season, managed only a 0-0 tie with the last place Prospect Panthers last week.

Blackford takes a 1-5 WVAL record into Thursday's game and a 2-6 overall mark.

The Braves wrap-up their 1977 season next week against the Camden Cougars.

Regular season comes to end for Spartan booters

THE SAN Jose State University soccer team will wind up its regular season on Sunday, Nov. 13, in a 1 p.m. game against the University of Santa Clara at SC's Buck Shaw Stadium.

San Jose was 9-4 on the year last week, heading into its final four games of the season. The Spartans needed wins in all of their last four games to pick up a berth in the Western Regional NCAA championships.

A 2-1 loss to California pushed San Jose into the "must win situation" in its final week of play.

Ismael (Easy) Perez scored a goal on an assist from Steve Sampson but it wasn't enough for the Spartans as they fell to the Golden Bears on the Diablo Valley College field.

The 2-1 loss was the third of the year for San Jose by that score. San Jose's only other loss was a 3-1 setback at the hands of defending NCAA champion the University of San Francisco.

For Perez, the goal against Cal was his 12th of the season to go with five assists. It was Sampson's first assist to go with his five goals.

Steve Swadley is the second leading scorer for the Spartans with nine goals and four assists.

Santa Clara also lost a close 2-1 decision to Cal last week, falling in overtime to the Golden Bears on a goal by Dan Salvemini.

Scott Douglas scored the lone goal in the loss for Santa Clara. The Broncos fell to 10-8-2 on the year with the setback.

Santa Clara picked up a 2-1 win over the University of Southern California a few days earlier on goals by John Stiegeler and Fabian Proano.

Greg Reynolds handles the chores in the cage for the Broncos.

Cycle racing returns

SHORT Track motorcycle racing returns to the Fremont Raceway for eight Saturday nights in the Fremont dirt.

The first race was slated for Saturday, Oct. 29, and action will continue each Saturday through Dec. 17.

The series, sponsored by the Mini-Stock Racing Association, will find Jim Mahoney, Bernie Coegler, Frank Borba, Earl Lamboian, Lyn George, Steve Carillo and others sliding through the speedy quarter mile dirt track.

Gates open on Saturdays at 4 p.m. with practice until 6:30 p.m. and the first race beginning at 7 p.m.

Games will be played on Saturday afternoons at local high schools. For more information call the Y.M.C.A. at 356-7126.

Vikings spike CCSF

THE CONFERENCE title wasn't up for grabs, but when West Valley College visited San Francisco City College last week in Women's Intercollegiate Volleyball League play there was quite a bit on the line — especially for the Vikings!

The Vikes went into the match in third place in the standings, but held just a slim one match lead over fourth place SFCC. And earlier in the year San Francisco had knocked off West Valley on the Viking's home court.

But by the time the last spike had echoed off of the hardwood floor, West Valley had lost its slim one match lead over San Francisco — and gained a solid two match lead!

West Valley knocked off San Francisco in three straight games, posting an impressive 15-12, 15-11, 15-8 victory over the home team.

Cindy Meyer (Camden) and Pam Goldsborough (Willow Glen) led the Viking defensive show in the win and the "Whole team did an outstanding job offensively," according to coach Claudine Simpson, who did praise Margo Fitzpatrick (Campbell), Meyer, Diane Rodrigues (Camden) and Goldsborough.

West Valley was fresh off of a 15-8, 15-8, 8-15, 15-8 victory over Chabot. Meyer played well defensively for the Vikings. Fitzpatrick was singled out for her serving and Rodrigues was praised for her hitting.

The Vikings have just one match this week, a 6:30 p.m. battle with Foothill on Thursday in the Saratoga gym. The Vikings are now 8-3 in league play in 1977 and 12-7 overall.

McCammon out for year

FORMER PROSPECT high school and West Valley College football starr Ross McCammon suffered an injured knee for the University of Pacific and is out for the remainder of the season.

McCammon, who started the first seven games of the 1977 season at offensive left tackle for the Tigers, injured his knee in practice prior to the San Jose State University-UOP game.

State harriers win tri-meet

FIVE SPARTANS finished in the top 10 to lead the San Jose State University cross country team to a tri-meet victory over UC Davis and San Francisco State last week at the 5.1 mile Crystal Springs course.

Dan Harvey led the Spartan showing with a second place finish clocked at 26:08 on the San Mateo course and Jack Ramey finished fifth at 26:29.

Matt Sommer, a product of Leigh high school and West Valley College, picked up sixth place for the Spartans at 26:40 with Gil Brooks, a graduate of Milpitas high and San Jose City College, seventh at 26.51 and Lupe Vargas eighth at 26:52.

The Spartans finished first with 28 points. Davis was second at 39 with SFS third at 62.

The Spartans now will get set for the Pacific Coast Athletic Association championships slated for Saturday, Nov. 12, at Stanford. The meet will be run in conjunction with the Pac-8 finals.

The price tag on an appliance doesn't tell you the total cost. Using ESP does.

ESP
ENERGY SAVINGS PAYBACK
THIS PILOTLESS GAS RANGE HAS AN ESP OF $126.00

The more efficiently an appliance runs, the less energy it uses, and the more money you save. That's why the price tag isn't the whole cost. You have to add the cost of operating the appliance during the years you own it, just as you have to consider the miles per gallon when you buy a car, as well as the sticker price.

If you decide to buy an air conditioner, refrigerator-freezer, freezer or gas range, you should know about an easy way to check its efficiency in terms of money-savings. Look for the ESP tag (it stands for Energy Savings Payback), on the more efficient models at participating "We Care" dealers.

Here's how ESP works. A pilotless-ignition gas range, for example, uses about 40% less energy than a similar model with constantly burning gas pilot lights. Comparative testing shows that the pilotless-ignition gas range could save your family up to $126 in energy costs over the 13 years you probably will use it, based on gas rates in effect on October 1, 1977. And that's the figure you'll find on the ESP tag. That means that although the pilotless-ignition model may cost a bit more to buy, it will save you money in the long run, because it will cost you less to operate.

Comparing costs on the basis of efficiency is a good thought. And it's easy to do with ESP.

DISPLAYING a few of the collectibles that will be going on sale at the new Canterbury Auction Galleries on Salmar ave. is owner Pat Madden. She's holding a pressed glass punch bowl set and a gold-plated berry server. Her "chair" is actually an oak hall tree, circa 1900. There are no shortcuts for learning the ins and outs of antique collecting, Pat advised last week. You can't read three or four books and become an instant expert. The local businesswoman has been studying the field for over 10 years now and says she's still learning more. (Photography by Amy Huntoon)

New auction gallery

Just think of antiques as recycled furniture

EVEN WITH the current mania for antiques there's won't be a shortage of carved bedsteads or hall trees, according to a local businesswoman who should know.

Pat Madden recently set up the first antique and estate auction gallery in Santa Clara county on Salmar ave. in Campbell.

She feels there'll be more, rather than less, antiques in future years and she explained why.

"In the past, used furniture was valueless. For years, when Grandma died it was off to the dumps with her furniture," Pat said.

Today people are coming to treasure and keep those "old things", whether collectibles or antiques (100 years old or more).

"So what we're doing today is recycling furniture and restoring it to its original beauty," Pat declared.

Antiques are sought after because of their age, their workmanship, their novelty or all of the above. Collectibles are anything some one else wants and that field is endless. It ranges from any glassware, to old medicine bottles, wooden nails, even old razor blade containers.

And what isn't sought by a collector will probably go to a plant lover. That is, anything with a hole it it.

"IT'S AMAZING to listen to buyers," says Toni Evans, Pat's assistant. "Someone is always coming up and saying, 'Wouldn't it make a darling planter?' People will stick a plant in anything."

The local business owner, who also owns AAA Estate Liquidators of San Jose, says she plans to sell only the finer pieces of furniture and bric-a-brac at the Salmar ave. auction house. The balance will be handled through the San Jose firm. She'll also be accepting single items on consignment.

Before setting up business here Pat had a giant hurdle to overcome; the city's business license fee structure. Locally auctioneers have to pay $50 for the first day of a sale and $25 for each additional day. If the new Canterbury Auction Galleries were to hold three sales for a total of six days per month the city bill would be $225. The city ordinance was designed to keep down the typical "going, going, gone!" business that sets up on a street corner or the flea market.

Recognizing the proposed gallery was a different type of business the city Council recently adopted a new ordinance setting the license fee for permanent estate and auction galleries at $100 yearly. Only two galleries will be allowed for each 50,000 in population and City Council approval is also required.

THREE WEEKS ago the Canterbury Galleries held its first auction which attracted over 200 people, mostly dealers. Plans are underway now for a second auction.

To get a real bargain at an auction, Pat explained, the layman needs to know just who she's bidding against. If it's antique or furniture dealers, the prices will be lower.

"Dealers must stop at a certain point," Pat said, "so a buyer can go a little higher and get it."

When the audience is made up of mostly buyers or dealers looking for a certain item, the prices go up.

If a dealer needs to complete a collection of glass for instance, he may go to $100 or even $200 for a single cup. That's because his incomplete set may be worth $300 while a complete set would net him $3,000, Pat explained.

THE BEST WAY for a layman to get a bargain, Pat said, 'is for them to decide what they want and what they're willing to spend.' And then stick to it.

When the local business goes into full swing regular auction dates will be set (from 7 to 10:30 p.m.) with the merchandise on display two days before the sale.

Before starting her own business eight years ago Pat got her start visiting garage sales and flea markets and what she saw there bothered her.

People often don't know the value of what they own, she explained. For illustration she said she once bought a fine porcelain bowl for 25 cents which is worth $18 to $20. While at the same sale, a blue cut glass dish had a $1 price tag on it. The same tiny dish you can get for 79 cents in the dime store.

AND WHAT is Pat's personal weakness when it comes to antiques?

"I have collectibles," she laughed, "Anything cheap." Most of her furnishings were bought for about 1 75th of their normal value, she added.

"Her house looks like a museum," chimed in Toni. "But a liveable museum."

TAXI OUT OF CONTROL

When police arrived at an accident scene at Hamilton and Bascom ave. last Friday morning, they found they also had an attempted robbery on their hands.

According to reports, the driver picked up three men in San Jose shortly before midnight Thursday and they asked him to take them to a Campbell night spot. On the way the driver says two of the men threatened him and one began choking him with a belt as he neared the local intersection.

The man says he lost control of the taxi which struck a telephone pole.

Police found one of the suspects staggering around a nearby parking lot and took him into custody. An older man, with the two suspects, was not taken into custody after he explained he didn't have any part in the attempted robbery and was not aware of what his companions were planning. The third suspect is still being sought.

Before being booked in county jail the robbery suspect was treated at the scene by Campbell paramedics for facial lacerations suffered in the crash. No one else was reported injured.

FOUR CARDIAC CASES

Campbell paramedics cared for four local residents with heart problems last week. Three patients were hospitalized in good condition while the fourth died shortly after being admitted to Good Samaritan Hospital.

Treated at the scene last week were two men in their 70's and a 65-year-old woman. All were later transported to local hospitals where they are recovering.

A man in his early 50's suffered a fatal heart attack in his home on Union ave. last week. He was treated by paramedics and transported to the hospital where he died a short time later.

Tax credit for solar use

Capitol News Service

California now has the largest financial incentive in the nation for homeowners to install solar energy devices. It's called the California Solar Tax Credit.

According to the California Energy, Resources and Conservation Commission, here's how the new law will work:

A state income tax credit of 55 per cent or $3,000, whichever is less, will be given for the cost of purchasing and installing solar energy systems. The credit also applies to solar pool and water heaters, air conditioning systems, solar related insulation and solar related conservation measures to reduce consumption of other energy.

The solar tax credit is subtracted from taxes owed and is not a deduction used in computing taxes.

To receive the credit the taxpayer must own the property at the time the solar system is installed. It applies to systems installed between January 1977 and December 1980. (The legislature will review the entire program in three years.)

The credit must be claimed in the same year the solar system is installed. If the tax credit exceeds the total tax of one year, you can't "make money" — the credit will simply be carried forward until the full amount is received.

If any federal solar tax credit is received, the maximum amount of state and federal credit still cannot exceed the limit set under State Solar Tax Credit.

Tax credit forms can be obtained from the Franchise Tax Board at P.O. Box 1468, Sacramento, California 95807.

Senior xmas party

Anyone 55 years and older is invited to the annual Seniors Christmas Party, sponsored by Campbell Community Services on Wednesday, Dec. 14 at Sunsweet Hall in The Factory.

Deadline for registration is Wednesday, Dec. 7 and forms are available at City Hall or by calling 378-8141.

The $5 per person fee will include luncheon, tax, tip and entertainment.

Those attending are asked to bring a small wrapped gift (labeled male or female) for exchanging.

Members of the Campbell Senior Social Club who have paid dues from February through November can attend the luncheon free.

It's their 65th anniversary!

Celebrating their 65th wedding anniversary last Sunday with family and friends were Dora and Clarence Zumbrunn of Campbell, shown above with "Clipper." The local couple, who were married on Nov. 6, 1912 in Junction City, Kansas, reside with their daughter and son-in-law Betty and Bill Wenger at 84 LaVonne drive. The two farmed wheat, cattle and corn in Kansas for 47 years before their semi-retirement in 1959. They moved to California in 1964 and lived in Folsom until 1972 when they moved to Campbell. Helping celebrate the occasion Sunday were their four children (a fifth son died in 1949), six grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. Two of their grandchildren, Bradley and Wendy Wenger (Coffelt) are graduates of Campbell High School. Dora and Clarence are still very active and love to take walks and putter in the yard. Clarence spends his time gardening and Dora still loves to bake. Her famous homemade rolls were part of the anniversary party fare last week.

Dolphinettes raise funds for festival

The Campbell Dolphinettes synchronized swim team has been invited to the International Aquatic Art Festival in Iowa in April and they're busy with fund raising activities to pay travel expenses.

Last week the group held a swim-a-thon at Campbell High School and 36 girls raised half of those expenses.

One girl, nine year-old Joycellyn Torres, helped raise $150 at the swim-a-thon and she won't even be able to make the trip. A prerequisite for attending is to be a member of the Dolphinettes for three years and Joycellyn, a trainee, is in her first year with the group.

Future fund-raisers include a bake sale set for Dec. 10 at Nob Hill market and an aluminum can drive now underway.

Anyone with aluminum cans to donate can call Donna Landis at 379-5524.

NEW trainee Joycellyn Torres, 9, raised $150 towards sending the Campbell Dolphinettes to Iowa in April.
